It Came From The Future: Ray's group
An alien comes back to the past and assumes human form accidentally attracting the unwanted attention of an amorous older gentleman. Several people tried to save the second man with broken elastic bands but were scared off when she killed the amorous gentleman. The second man hid by putting a bag on his head. We then discover she was looking for her child.

The Chronicle of Vootah Battootah:

Paula's group

The video opens with a small girl that speaks only an alien language. When she encounters 2 people and they aren't being helpful she kills them with an elastic band. She first kills the woman on the cannon, then the man on the park bench, She finds what she's looking for from the second victim.

It's In The Bag: Henry's group

Something strange is found in the park. The local vet sends someone out to retrieve it for him. Once they bring it to him see says throw it in the garbage without even looking at it.

CONT'D

Sirius Stuff: Rick's group

Two people are picking up litter in a park when another person points to the sky, watching something falling to the ground. A fourth person goes to the object and sees that it is a small creature with broken limbs. He binds the limbs with rubber bands, then holds the creature to his ear.

The creature relates that it is from the dog star, Sirius. It has a message from the future, about how the Earth is in grave danger. The creature directs the man to find an alien from the centre of the earth, who will explain how to preserve the planet.

The man, carrying the creature, finds a lady sitting with the small alien. The lady explains that the earth isn't as easy to fix as a broken limb and that people should look at the big picture; everything is connected.
