Welcome, welcome, welcome summer and everyone in the club.
Our MC for this evening was Ernest Gibson.

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

In July, we will be having the club picnic along with the usual bag night video participation afterwards. The picnic will be held at Battle Field Park on July 2, 2015, at 6:00 pm at the pavillion.

Christine has requested that anyone participating in the bag night not wear any clothing that has any logos or wording on it.

Carolyn asked me to let everyone know that Agnes Huston has been in Joseph Brant Hospital with a blood infection for about a week now. Flowers will be sent on behalf of the club. Visitors should call first before going in.

Anyone wishing to join the Executive may do so. We would ask that you attend a majority of the executive meetings as possible.

VIDEOS FOR TONIGHT:

Tonight we reveal the results of the 66th Annual Awards Night. Paul Bentley thanked Ernest Gibson for his help during the judging.

Spaced Out by the Spaced Out Group.

We see two people enjoying the park and the fresh spring air. They walk past a lone person reading a newspaper on a bench. Suddenly a crazy lady comes running up with a fly swatter and she is acting confused and excited. She tells the couple that she is killing aliens with the fly swatter. We then view the whole scene as the aliens are watching them from their spacecraft. As the people sit down talking to her to calm her we see an alien appear behind them and then disappear a moment later.

Not My Bag by Ray Bayliss

We see two people walking along. A crazy person runs by and grabs the ladies' bag. As the screams are heard, we see a stranger start to stalk the man that grabbed the bag. In his hand he has a hand held garden rake. We hear another lady cry out that that is her purse because it matches her hat. The thief runs as the stalker follows him towards the shrubbery. When the thief stumbles and falls we see the attack and the tree trunk is showered in blood and the park is in silence.

AWARDS:

Novice Category:

Freedom and the Price by Miro Kantarsky

Miro narrates this video about his trip to freedom from his native land. He started his travel to freedom covers from 1968 to 2008. He has done 40 years of service to this country. Visions of a hawk flying over the ocean and land seem to represent his travels across the ocean and into Canada. He talks about his transformation in Canada, about his trips through this land and how he built his life. We see the lakes, and cities and rivers that he visited. He talks about his travels and adventures as a young man. We now also realize the price he has paid for this life – being away from his homeland and his father. He finally goes home to see his father and his father tells him how proud he is of him.

Sail 'N' Dive by Rick Doelle

We are treated to a beautiful scene of a bright and sunny day. People are seen sailing on the water. They are raising the sails and floating along.

Divers now show us a beautiful undersea view of different fish species, skates, and a shark.

Under the Sea by Alex Szatmary

Riding on the ocean, we see a catamaran sailing past a boat. We have views of a beautiful ocean seascape filled with lots of sea creatures with divers going back to the surface and then back into the water again. More views of sails and beautiful beaches.

Snowscapes by Paula Cutulle – 3rd place

Amateur Category

Paula has treated us to a beautiful choice of a winter wonderland. We see icy sheets of snow melting and hanging onto the buildings and ground longer than the rest of the land. Snow seems to flow over the horizon and settle in the fields. The icicles form decorative icy bling backed by bright crisp blue skies and beautiful sunsets. The club has seen wonderful improvement in Paula's work and she richly deserves this award. Congratulations Paula.

Sounds of Art Crawl by Paula Cutulle

With this video we see Paula has gone out to the Art Crawl crowd and video taped some very interesting people. It's evening time and we see a variety of musicians, singers, and artists of every kind. The Art Crawl is the second Friday of every month for the summer.

A great dinner at King's Buffet.

Hamilton Art Crawl by Alex Szatmary

Alex also gave us a wonderful introduction to the Art Crawl. We see the inside of an art gallery. As we stroll through the area the pictures literally come to life in their frames. We see paint splashes transitioning the pictures to life where we see belly dancers, dolls for sale, puppets, sidewalk artists and musicians all up and down the street.

COFFEE BREAK:

At this point in time, we broke for coffee, everyone was too full for donuts. After the coffee break, we had the 50/50 draw, which was won by Liz Stewart.

The Recruit by Alex Szatmary - 2nd place Amateur Category

This video is about the recruitment and training of a man becoming a sniper. He arrives at the airport and eventually spends time talking with his trainer as they talk about the lifestyle and the things expected of him and the history of snipers and assassins.

Next we see the young recruit boarding a plane on his first assignment. He arrives in Budapest, checks into the room where he will complete his mission. He finds the rifle and goes over his instructions.

Next we see a young woman arriving home and relaxing in her apartment. By her type of clothing the woman seems to work as a prostitute. The assassin scopes out the room and realizes that the subject is his sister who is also a trained assassin. The next thing we hear is the shot and then darkness.

The Minnie award is for the most improved member this year is Ray Bayliss. Congratulations to Ray on his achievement.

While Jack Simpson, Manfred Ernst & Teresa Jackson smile for the camera, Ken Davey is wondering when CHCH is showing up.

Fred Briggs, Ben Andrews and Mary Cosgrove never saw who took the table

CONT'D

This year the Bunny Upton Award was presented to Christine Whitlock for the person who has contributed to the club. Congratulations to Christine.

And finally, the Ralph Trouten Award for First Place has been awarded to Ray Bayliss for his movie Cavanaugh.

Cavanaugh by Ray Bayliss – 1st Place Amateur Category

This is Ray's first video of that length in a while. The premise is that there is a planet that has been devastated in a global war. There are only a few domed cities left that are slowly dying. The resistance are trying to get information out to the public that the leader is responsible for the destruction as has his ancestors before him. The leader blocks the transmission and captures the main rebel. After some mental conditioning, he is sent off planet and we find out that this man we know as Cavanaugh is told that his name is now Adam. They implanted an electronic device in his head that tells him that the voice he hears is his conscience. We also find out that it is to keep him from going where he shouldn't. We know that his wife will be soon be caught and of course she will be named Eve.

We want to thank everyone who entered videos to the Annual film festival this year

SCCA FILM CONTEST:

The theme title for the group film is "A Recipe for... All entries must be in to Keith Gloster by July 31st.

As this ends the evening, everyone have a good month and see you in July at the picnic.

The rarely seen Ernest Gibson spots his shadow and realizes the club has 3 more months of him.

Paul Dovey feels left out when he realizes he's wearing the wrong hat at that table.

Ernest Gibson congratulates Miro Kantarsky for his winnings in the novice category

Your Old Video Productions

They may be gathering dust, but we'd love to see them. If you have any of your video productions that are greater than 20 years old, bring them in and show them at a club meeting. Make sure they are playable on the club's system: either DVD, Blue-ray, or on a memory stick.
