VIDEOS FOR TONIGHT:

Magic Fountain by Alex Szatmary (4 min)

This was a video done by Alex Szatmary about his trip to Hungary, where we see many beautiful spouting fountains. With shoppers and tourists roaming the streets, we hear the enchanting music of Johann Strauss's 1001 Nights. As we watch, the music seems to weave in and out, through the playful rhythm of the water sprays. We see people enjoying the sun as they sit on the tiered seating surrounding the pond.

Pictures in the Fog by Miro Kantarsky (12 min)

This video is about one of Miro's many trips to Red Lake.

He has started to have dream like visions of himself as a boy on a horse and as he ambles along he notices his father. He finds he dreams many times, sometimes on the highway at night, he sees visions of home. He also spends contemplative time on the patio and speaks with his friend about his upcoming trip north.

Now he is traveling the roads and highways. He finds himself traveling through misty terrain. Unusual lightning flashes across the sky and he finds he has no radio or cell phone contact.

Suddenly an electrical current snakes across the road in front of him. This action seems to create a dream like state where he feels lost. He sees visions of home when he was a child. He tells us that he meets what he calls the Guardian of the Dream, who lets him see many things before he is released back into the real world.

Edit by Harold Cosgrove (3 min)

Just before the video starts, Harold talks about a website that supplies video sequences available for use by the public. This program lets people practice working with an editing program to teach them how to do it. Harold gave us a short video piece that he reedited as an example. The website is editstock.com

Trent-Severn Waterway Part 1 by Jack Simpson (10 min)

We see footage of the houseboat for the trip. We find out that the trip starts out in Peterborough, Ontario.

As the group is waiting, video is taken of three girls enjoying themselves by jumping from a nearby bridge into the cool water below. Finally it is boarding time. The trip begins with the introduction of the staff and crew as the guests sit down to refreshments and a buffet style dinner. Passengers seem to be enjoying the meal, as the captain is going through the orientation.

After dinner, we are treated to a view of the lake at night. In the morning, we watch the various staff taking care of the duties of the morning. The vessel finally gets on its way during breakfast. We travel along the waterway viewing the sights and sounds and also enjoying the trips through the different locks.

COFFEE BREAK:

At this point in time, we broke for coffee and donuts.

After the coffee break, we had the 50/50 draw, which was won by Christine Whitlock

Zoo.3 by Ben Leonetti (15 min)

This is a unique, psychedelic and artistic rendering of stars, cosmic scenes which soon turned into a digital opera.

We see graphic wormhole representations and colors galore. We see star ships, and planets with a background of frenetic music accompanying creative art representations. Periodically, we see a visual representation of Don Quixote mixed in with the video. Ben treats us to some of the interesting architecture around Hamilton and amusing conversations between the different statues in Gore Park. Even though we have seen most of this video before it is still as visually challenging in its differences as it was the first time.

Two Weeks in The Rocky Mountains by Miro Kantarsky (14 Minute)

The video shows Miro in his younger years hiking through the Rocky Mountains, enjoying the forests and rivers and lakes. This is a rugged isolated area, full of predators who call this place their home and isolated enough that there are not many people around. There are many creatures in the meadows living their lives and going their own way.

Miro films grand waterfalls and tumbling waters, with majestic mountains in the background with their peaks covered in snow.

As this ends the evening, everyone have a good month and see you in June

Your Old Video Productions

They may be gathering dust, but we'd love to see them. If you have any of your video productions that are greater than 20 years old, bring them in and show them at a club meeting. Make sure they are playable on the club's system: either DVD, Blue-ray, or on a memory stick.
