Welcome back everyone.

Anne Thompson was our MC tonight, not Jon

Anyone wishing to join Jon at Jon's corner just stroll on over between 7 - 7:30.

Tonight we welcomed our guest speaker, writer, actor, producer, musician Kim Lombard of the series Pink Is In.

Kim Lombard was born at a very young age in London, England. He presently resides in Canada. Played drums in the pop/rock band 'Trixie Goes Hollywood'. Writes for the television series 'Pink Is In. Once while on a camping trip set fire to his feet. Took the opportunity to roast marshmallows.

Kim lived in Los Angeles for a time with his 4 friends & the one friend's girlfriend & 1 dog. At one time he lived in his car.

He later moved to Toronto & lived with his girlfriend until one day she fired him.

Later he moved to France & did animation where he did several shows and also background & stand in work.

He later moved back to North America where he met Lisa Crawford. She asked him to shoot a teaser for her new series Pink Is In.

At the time he was wearing a neck brace due to surgery on his neck caused by his earlier head banging days. At first he declined but realized he was just laying there staring at the ceiling. The neck brace was written into the script. They've had stars like Patrick McKenna & Jayne Eastwood on the show. As well as Art Hindle. They almost had Alex Lifeson on the show but that didn't work out due to timing & availability.

Trixie Goes Hollywood is gearing up for their fatter, older, balder tour.
